

prosperity through technology

PROFILE

AMD is the aerospace, maritime and defence industries association of South Africa and has as its primary objectives, the representation of the industry in matters of mutual interest and the promotion of a profitable, sustainable and responsible industry.

The association is acknowledged as the only trade association of South Africa's defence-related industry (SADRI) and is mandated by its members to promote and champion the collective interests of the industry. It comprises of a cluster of leading companies in the South African private and public sector engaged in industrial and trade processes of defence-related materiel, products and services.

AMD assists and provides guidance in harnessing the collective effort of the SADRI as these companies play a key role in the acquisition supply chain. This ensures cost effective and sustainable solutions are offered to its broad client base that meets the most stringent technical requirements, comparable or even exceeding international standards.

AMD's 43 member companies supply products and services to the Department of Defence (DoD), government organisations and other contractors, both locally and internationally, in the defence and security marketplace. As the SADRI is one of the cornerstones of a stable and growing South African economy, AMD is responsible for ensuring that a world-class indigenous defence-related industry capability is maintained in a sustainable manner. Providing high-tech solutions at competitive prices is a constant requirement to secure export orders, which in turn leads to local skills development, job creation and retention. This also assists the South African government in executing its foreign policy and agreed upon international responsibilities in the region and African continent.

AMD'S VISION

A reputable industry that supplies world-class defence equipment and services to local and international customers whilst contributing to the South African government's economic and social imperatives.

AMD'S MISSION

AMD, as the recognised defence industry trade association, promotes, protects and supports the collective interests of its members in particular and the broader industry in general.

Membership to the association is voluntary, on the basis that AMD creates value for the individual companies and industry as a whole and that the members interact and contribute to the achievement of collective goals in line with the values of the association.

CONTACT DETAILS:

Telephone: +27 (0) 12 420 1540, Telefax: +27 (0) 12 347 6350/ 6406

prosperity through technology

PROFILE

AMD is the aerospace, maritime and defence industries association of South Africa and has as its primary objectives, the representation of the industry in matters of mutual interest and the promotion of a profitable, sustainable and responsible industry.

The association is acknowledged as the only trade association of South Africa's defence-related industry (SADRI) and is mandated by its members to promote and champion the collective interests of the industry. It comprises of a cluster of leading companies in the South African private and public sector engaged in industrial and trade processes of defence-related materiel, products and services.

AMD assists and provides guidance in harnessing the collective effort of the SADRI as these companies play a key role in the acquisition supply chain. This ensures cost effective and sustainable solutions are offered to its broad client base that meets the most stringent technical requirements, comparable or even exceeding international standards.

AMD's 43 member companies supply products and services to the Department of Defence (DoD), government organisations and other contractors, both locally and internationally, in the defence and security marketplace. As the SADRI is one of the cornerstones of a stable and growing South African economy, AMD is responsible for ensuring that a world-class indigenous defence-related industry capability is maintained in a sustainable manner. Providing high-tech solutions at competitive prices is a constant requirement to secure export orders, which in turn leads to local skills development, job creation and retention. This also assists the South African government in executing its foreign policy and agreed upon international responsibilities in the region and African continent.

AMD'S VISION

A reputable industry that supplies world-class defence equipment and services to local and international customers whilst contributing to the South African government's economic and social imperatives.

AMD'S MISSION

AMD, as the recognised defence industry trade association, promotes, protects and supports the collective interests of its members in particular and the broader industry in general.

Membership to the association is voluntary, on the basis that AMD creates value for the individual companies and industry as a whole and that the members interact and contribute to the achievement of collective goals in line with the values of the association.

CONTACT DETAILS:

Telephone: +27 (0) 12 420 1540, Telefax: +27 (0) 12 347 6350/ 6406